

The image features a collection of red ceramic tableware. In the center, a small red saucer with a scalloped edge holds a single pear. This saucer sits on a larger matching plate with a gold leaf floral pattern. To the right, another plate with a similar gold leaf pattern is partially visible. In the top left, a third plate with a textured red surface is shown. A red ribbon is draped across the top and bottom of the arrangement. The background is a plain, light color.
